LOVE:-What a volume in a word, ocean in a tear. A seventh heaven in a glance, a whirl-The lightening is a touch, a millenium a moment;

What concentrated joy or woe in blest blighted love! But with the world, thou friend and schol ar, stain not this pure name, Nor suffer the majesty of Love to be like ened to the meanness of desire; For Love is no more such, than scraph's breath is summer.

AUDO WISDOM WITHOUT MEMORY. Memory is not wisdom; idiots can write Yet, what is wisdom without memory?

babe that is strangled in its birth, The path of the swallow in the air, the path of the dolphin in the waters, A cask running out, a bottomless chasm such is wisdom without memory.

TRIPLES MAKE CHARACTER. Planets govern not the soul, nor guide the destinies of man, But trifles lighter than straws, are levers in the building up of character.

Friendships are never completed till men are bound to each other by the common experience of sorrow.

And so in heaven, think not to dwell alone In cold and hopeless solitude apart; For heaven is love; and love would leave its throne. If at its side there were no other heart.

Then heavenward soar, but carry others there, And learn that heaven is giving and receiv-It hath no life which others do not share, Its life doth live by its great art of giving.
